

Craig Ferguson – Philosopher for the common man

There's not much redeeming about late night TV – and Craig Ferguson's show is often a mix of typical vapid talk show and the very silly old British variety show 'Benny Hill'. But he is probably the most heartfelt late night host when he chooses to address whatever serious topic is on his mind that evening. I just like the way he says what he has to say...so here are some of my favorite CF clips – enjoy!
